What Causes Dryer Fires?

Clothes dryers must vent hot air from the dryer to the outside of the house. Lint becomes detached from the clothes and is carried out through the exhaust. If lint builds up in the exhaust pipe or inside the dryer, it slows the air movement through the dryer and out the exhaust. The slower air movement causes more lint to collect on the backside of the dryer drum, on the dryer motor, or on the electrical connections inside the dryer, placing the highly combustible lint on top of and adjacent to heat sources inside the dryer.

To Help Prevent Fires:

- Clean the lint screen/filter before or after drying each load of clothes.
- If clothing is still damp at the end of a typical drying cycle or drying requires longer times than normal, this may be a sign that the lint screen or the exhaust duct is blocked.
- Clean the dryer vent and exhaust duct periodically. Check the outside dryer vent while the dryer is operating to make sure exhaust air is escaping. To remove a blockage in the exhaust path, it may be necessary to disconnect the exhaust duct from the dryer. Remember to reconnect the ducting to the dryer and outside vent before using the dryer again.
- Clean behind the dryer, where lint can build up. Have a qualified service person clean the interior of the dryer chassis periodically to minimize the amount of lint accumulation. Keep the area around the dryer clean and free of clutter.
- Replace plastic or foil, accordion-type ducting material with rigid or corrugated semi-rigid metal duct. Most manufacturers specify the use of a rigid or corrugated semi-rigid metal duct, which provides maximum airflow.
- Take special care when drying clothes that have been soiled with volatile chemicals such as gasoline, cooking oils, cleaning agents, or finishing oils and stains. If possible, wash the clothing more than once to minimize the amount of volatile chemicals on the clothes and, preferably, hang the clothes to dry. If using a dryer, use the lowest heat setting and a drying cycle that has a cool-down period.

Carbon Monoxide Alarms AND Smoke Alarms

Per California Senate Bill 183, beginning July 1, 2011, all existing single family homes must have carbon monoxide (CO) alarms. All other types of residences (apartments, condominiums, etc.) will need carbon monoxide alarms beginning January 1, 2013. The law aims to prevent poisoning from the incomplete burning of any flame-fueled (not electric) devices including gas furnaces, ranges, flame ovens, clothes dryers, fireplaces, grills, space heaters, vehicles, and water heaters.

Carbon monoxide can be dangerous – when inhaled, it passes from the lungs into the red blood cells. The result is that the body becomes oxygen-starved, which can lead to tissue damage and death. Many reported cases of carbon monoxide poisoning say that while victims are aware they are not well, they become so disoriented that they are not able to save themselves by leaving the building or calling for assistance. Carbon monoxide alarms are designed to alert residents before exposure to CO causes a health hazard.

In addition to carbon monoxide alarms, every existing home is required to have smoke alarms protection. Install smoke alarms on every level of your home, in every sleeping area, and in the hallway leading to a sleeping area. Inspect smoke alarms by testing them and replacing the batteries every six months. Protect your family by developing a home escape plan. Practice your plan by having home fire drills.

For questions regarding an existing home or homes undergoing remodel, contact City of Westminster building division at (714) 548-3254.

For mobile/manufactured home, contact the State of California Housing and Community Development Department at (916) 327-2816.

Did You Know

- Carbon monoxide is a tasteless, odorless, and invisible gas.
- Low levels of CO poisoning can cause shortness of breath, mild headaches, nausea, and fainting.
- Carbon monoxide poisoning is the leading cause of accidental poisoning deaths in the United States according to the American Medical Association
