Article marketing is a very powerful way to market your business online, an yet very few local businesses use it. This technique is inexpensive and can create a steady stream of leads visiting your website or store front; leads that are ready to take action or make a purchase. However, to get the return on time you spend writing articles, you need to know how to do it correctly, especially if you focus on a local market, not a national one. ### Customer Service in the Hospitality and Service Industry

Customer service is critical if you want your business to have a competitive edge. Failure to provide quality service can cause loss of revenue beyond what you would expect. Remember the saying "for every person you make happy that person will tell another person about the good experience, but every person you make unhappy will tell ten people to make sure they let everyone know how bad the experience was." The most important part of a service industry job is to understand that you are the "face of the business." You represent a business or restaurant every time you step out in the front of the house and meet the customer face to face. This seminar is designed to improve your customer service skills for those seeking employment or are already employed in the hospitality or service industry. It is important for managers as well as staff.
